

Mines of the County

The C. O. D. mine is still in big ore.

E. S. Richards, who holds a bond on the Primrose mine, is in Kingman.

Judge J. M. Murphy is looking after his mining interests in the Chloride country.

Work on the Blackfoot mine is progressing satisfactorily and good ore sent to the surface.

Sehee Brothers have the shaft on the Pinkham mine nearing the 200 level. The ore body is showing up well.

The main shaft on the Golden Gem is being unwatered and sinking will soon be commenced. The ore in the drift at the 130 level is still in very rich ore.

Hank Lefler came in from the Great West mine the first of this week. Hank says that the Great West is one of the best properties in the Blue Ridge range.

The machinery for the big plant at the Minnesota-Connor mines is expected to arrive sometime this month and will be installed as rapidly as skilled workmen can get it in place.

I. W. Hawkins and son are about to place several mining properties located in the Moss country, with Los Angeles capitalists. The properties are gold bearing and ought to become dividend payers.

Albert I. Goodell has been looking over the mining field of this county in the interest of the Needles smelter. He wants silicious ores of copper or iron, carrying some values in both gold and silver.

We understand that West and Bedell have struck a fine body of ore in their mines near Boundary Cone. They have been at work on the properties for a year past and have them in excellent shape.

We understand that the Elkhart mine is showing up a nice ore body below the 500 level. The Elkhart at one time was considered one of the best lead properties in the Wallapai mining district.

Cedar Valley is receiving attention from capitalists. This week several mining claims in that region have been bonded and a stipulation entered into by which work is to be commenced at once.

The main shaft of the Great West mine is being sunk from the bottom of the 150 level and is in good ore. This mine is showing up better and better with every foot of development and the owners expect to have one of the dividend payers of Mohave county within the next six months.

J. N. Cohenour visited his mining claims near the Gold Road this week and brought back with him some very rich samples of ore. Al James is leasing on the mine and has over a ton of ore on the dump that he says will run over sixty ounces in gold. The mine is owned by Cohenour, Gaddis and James.

The Gold Road mines have been sold to a party of capitalists represented by George Kistingbury, the well known mining man. The deal was closed up in Los Angeles a few days ago. Ed. Mellarky is foreman at the mine and will at once enter actively into its development. A new gasoline hoist was received at Kingman station the other day and is now loaded onto a wagon and will be hauled out at once. The Gold Road mines are among the best gold properties in the whole west and will undoubtedly become wonderful producers. In the bottom of the mine an immense body of ore has been cut that runs very high in gold. The new owners are mining men of experience and will open it up in a legitimate manner.

We understand that a bond has been taken on the mine recently discovered by Ben Paddock, near the Treadwell group.

Mr. Ward, who has been leasing on the Midas mine with John Blakely, was in Kingman this week. The leasers have a good showing of ore in sight and are making good money from the lease.

Ira W. Hawkins is home again from Los Angeles, where he has been presenting mining properties before investors. Mr. Hawkins is a hustler and we are sure he deserves success in every undertaking.

Thomas Ewing has placed the old Moss mine with California investors for a good figure. The property has been held for years past by P. F. Collins and B. H. Spear. We are more than pleased that Patsy Collins gets a good slice of the sales money.

Sam Butler came up from Bill Williams Fork early this week to meet E. S. Osborn, who returned from Los Angeles Tuesday last. They are having all their wagons fixed up and getting things in shape for extensive work on the mines under their control.

N. S. Wright, a mining man of San Francisco, has been examining mines in and around Cerbat owned by James Dundon, and left for home yesterday with a large amount of samples. He will probably return within the next twenty days and begin work on the properties.

John S. Kolar and H. P. Ewing left Kingman Wednesday to look at the placer and lode mines of the Chemebuevis valley. They expect to be gone several days. The mines of that country will some day attract a great deal of attention, carrying as they do large values in gold.

The New Comstock is the largest bonanza to be exploited in this county. The cross-cut from the bottom of the 50 foot shaft has at last reached the walls and exposed 62 feet of ore that gives values ranging from a minimum of $8 to 16 to the ton in gold. The mine is but one mile from the river and is one of the most accessible properties in that whole country. S. C. Bagg, the resident manager of the property is jubilant over the bright prospects of the mine and believes he has the banner mine of the country.

J. S. Withers has disposed of his mercantile business at Searchlight and Quartette and Monday last returned to Kingman. He will probably enter into mining pursuits.

Miss Jean Munro, Maggie Mackenzie and H. J. West departed for San Jose, California, last Monday. They will remain in the Garden City for some months.

Mrs. J. P. Finegan and daughter Weta and Miss Dora Connelly returned from Los Angeles Wednesday last and have gone to their home at Chloride.

Ed. Cain, Owen McNeely and William Bohne came over from the Paymaster mine last Monday to settle up some business affairs.

William Grant, the genial Hackberry merchant, is in Kingman looking after business affairs.

There was born to the wife of W. A. Menach, last Sunday, a baby girl.

Today is one of the windiest and dustiest days of the year.

O. D. M. Gaddis returned from Prescott Sunday last.

Lewie Greer, of Hackberry, is in Kingman.

When you want a pleasant physic try the new remedy, Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at H. H. Watkins' drug store.

A Disgrace to Our Country.

A report came to Kingman from Chloride this week that James Burrows had, in the presence of J. P. Finegan, Arthur Alman and others denounced the late President McKinley and reviled him in a shocking manner. Burrows said, so it is alleged, that the president ought to have been burned at the stake; "that the s—of a b—ought to have been driven full of splinters of wood and set on fire." Mr. Finegan drove the cowardly brute from his store and told him never to return. Burrows then went to the saloon of H. Doling and asked for a drink of liquor. While he was being waited upon Mr. Doling asked if he had heard of the death of the president. Burrows replied that he had and that the s—of a b—ought to have been dead long ago. Doling drove the man from his house. He soon after took a team for the Great West mine, where we understand he is employed. If the charge against Burrows is true, Mohave county is too small a place for him. None but the vilest cur would have made the remarks attributed to this man. It matters not what a man's political belief may be no party creed should countenance assassination. Burrows was a spectacular figure in the democratic county convention last fall in Kingman and was the chairman of the committee on platform. When contributions were asked for the campaign he took the lead in throwing silver dollars onto the platform. He was loud and vociferous in his denunciation of the republican party and its adherents. Now, the old line democrats cannot afford to be allied with this wretch and the sooner they take action in denouncing him the better it will be for their organization. Not only this, but steps should be taken to punish the scoundrel to the extent of the law. The vilest creature on earth is the one who would countenance the assassination of a human being.

Last Tuesday night two hobos assaulted a Norwegian, who was in their company, at the Nelson switch, above Peach Springs, and robbed him of money and gun. One of the hobos was a darkey and the other a white man. The darkey held the poor fellow down while the other beat him with a rock. Thinking that the man had not yet gotten his quietus the darkey took the rock and tried to crush the man's skull, rendering him insensible. They then robbed him and jumped a freight train that was standing at the switch. The man came to Kingman for medical aid and told his story to the officers. Several men have been arrested and it is believed that the white man is now in custody, but the darkey has not yet been apprehended.

W. B. Campbell, for years postmaster at Campbell, is still sick in a San Francisco hospital. Mrs. John Musser has been appointed postmistress and the office has been removed to the old school building in Cerbat.

Thursday afternoon every store and business house in Kingman closed its doors. Many places were draped in mourning and all flags were half masted.

John Roberts of White Hills had several tons of rich ore from that camp worked at the Arizona sampling works a few days ago.

A Communication.

MR. EDITOR—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with the bronchitis and could not sleep at night. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me.—W. S. Brockman, Bagnell, Mo. This remedy is for sale by H. H. Watkins, druggist.

Memorial Services.

The people of Kingman turned out en masse Thursday afternoon last to attend the memorial services at the M. E. church and to listen to the elegant tributes paid to the memory of our martyred president by the speakers of the occasion, Judge J. M. Murphy, Judge W. G. Blakely, Howard W. Kemper and Fred W. Morrison. Judge Logan was chairman of the meeting and in his opening address execrated the fiendish order that had condemned our noble president to death and hoped that every red handed anarchist in this broad land of ours would be driven across the border. The church was draped in the deepest mourning and the people were bowed in sorrow over our national affliction. During the services the choir sang several appropriate hymns.

Death of A. L. Lefever.

A. L. Lefever died in the city of Los Angeles last Wednesday after a lingering illness. Abe Lefever was born in the state of Wisconsin on the 15th of February, 1862, and had passed his 39th year when called to cross the silent river. He came to this county about fourteen years ago and resided here nearly the whole intervening time. He was a kindly, good natured man, liked by all with whom he came in contact. He held the office of county recorder for two years and while in that office was a faithful, conscientious public servant. Mr. Lefever was married to Mrs. Gibson, an estimable lady, in this county in 1897. He leaves a father, mother brother and sister and widow to mourn his untimely death. His host of friends in Mohave county will sincerely mourn his demise.

Win. H. Sherman, after a three months prospecting trip into the mountains, arrived in Kingman a few days ago. He found here awaiting him a notification that a group of mines owned by himself and another gentleman had just been sold to a party of capitalists for 20,000. The mines are located in the Shadow Mountain country and are said to be excellent properties. Mr. Sherman will leave today for Blake, where his partner is awaiting him. Win Sherman is well known to all Mohavites and his good fortune causes rejoicing among these people.

We understand that George De-france, at one time printer on the MINER, has sold a mining property in Nevada and is in Los Angeles having all sorts of a good time.

The old well at the Brawn place on the Stockton Hill road, has been cleaned out and the water will be taken to the road for the use of the traveling public.

The many friends of Hugh F. Kemper will be pleased to learn that he has almost entirely recovered from his recent severe illness.

The Wallapai Indians are furnishing the stables of Kingman with hay. They get the hay in the foothills to the east of Kingman.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dundon, of Cerbat, were in Kingman a few days ago settling up a trade on some mining property.

Mrs. A. L. Lefever and son came over from Chloride Wednesday last and are visiting with friends in Kingman.

J. H. Mollering has just returned to Kingman after several weeks among the mines of the county.

Have you a sense of fullness in the region of your stomach after eating? If so you will be benefitted by using Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They also cure belching and sour stomach. They regulate the bowels too. Price, 25 cents. Sold by H. H. Watkins, druggist.

Should Be Proud of Him.

There is one man that the city of Phenix should be proud of. His name is A. Redewill. Mr. Redewill goes away from home very often and no matter in what part of the globe he may be he is saying good things of his home city and Arizona in general. Bright, intelligent, energetic, Mr. Redewill is doing for Arizona a world of good in dispelling the crude impressions of the outside world and bringing capital into various enterprises. Phenicians and Arizonans should recognize his good work in some substantial manner.

Kean St. Charles announces that he has sued the Phenix Republican for 25,000 for publishing in that paper a dispatch, purporting to have been sent from Kingman, that he (St. Charles) was an anarchistic editor. It will take considerable proof on the part of St. Charles to convince a jury that anything that could be said about him would damage his character to that extent. Just think of him shooting a broadside of mandamus, assumpsit, quo warrantos and other legal proceedings into the corporosity of the Republican to the value of 25,000 and still survive. When the newspaper man gets through with St. Charles his best friend would never recognize him.

Public services at the M. E. church tomorrow evening at half past seven o'clock. Subject—"Lessons from the Life of Our Martyred President." The public cordially invited.

Steve Haskins, the young Hackberry cattleman, was in Kingman yesterday, having just returned from an extensive trip into the country north of the Colorado river.

Walter Abrams and wife returned Thursday evening from San Francisco. They were accompanied by a brother of Mr. Abrams.

Dr. J. P. Wallace spent ten days among the mines of the Wallapai mining district, returning to Kingman Monday last.

Three new houses have just been completed at Cerbat and that old camp is taking on a prosperous appearance.

The survey of the Haas turquoise mines has been completed and Surveyor Kuencer is now at work on the plat.

Hon. P. F. Collins has returned to Fort Mohave after several weeks outing at the seashore.

The following letters remain dead in the Kingman office: Earl H. Plummer, A. W. Harris, F. C. Conby, J. O. Cooper, Will Leslie, Lui Frydendall, Jno. Rouke, Joseph Field Woods, N. S. West.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford county, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when editor Ward, of the Daceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy and this time one dose cured me." Sold by H. H. Watkins, druggist.
